Venice Musicale

Presents

Musical Connections

Composers and performers of classical music have always been linked in many ways: by the adoption of a variety of musical styles and concepts and by their innate respect for the traditions they uphold and pass along to generations of musicians. In this program, featuring works from several centuries and periods of classical music, we will showcase and reveal ties between composers, and see how some of our youngest, most talented members are "keeping the flame alive."

Haig Yaghoobian, Program Chair

Violinist Andrii Padkovskyi began studying violin at the age of six in Lviv, Ukraine. Andrii lives in Venice and now, at 16, is a two-time winner of the Sarasota Orchestra Young Artists Competition, a prizewinner of the Sarasota Music Conservatory Competition, and three-time recipient of a Venice Musicale Scholarship. Andrii has performed as soloist with four area orchestras and this past Spring made his professional theater debut as 'The Fiddler' in the Asolo Repertory Theater's production of "Fiddler on the Roof."

Friday, November 20, 2026
2:30 PM

Wm. H. Jervey, Jr. Public Library
Community Room
300 Nokomis Ave. S., Venice, FL 34285

This Concert is Free and OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. Space is Limited

75 YEARS 2026

Donations will be accepted to support the Venice Musicale Scholarship Program.
For more information visit venicemusicale.org or email info@venicemusicale.org.